ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.-James W. Moore Esq , of Beaufort, S. C., was admitted, on petition erday, to practice in the United States Court.

PERSONAL. - Ex-Governor Bonham is in town and staying at the Charleston Hotel. The English papers state that General Ripley,

"who fired the first gun at Fort Sumter." is a bank rupt in London for about $200,000. THE NEW JURY LAW .- We publish this morning one of the most important acts of the last see sion of the Logislature, the chief object of which seems to be to get as many negroes as white people on every jury. The means adopted to that end will be best understood by reading the act. REVIVAL OF THE CITY CREDIT .- The City of Charleston yesterday resumed the payment of interest on its debt, which has been suspended since January, 1867. The interest for the quarter ending April 1st, 1867, was paid in certificates of indebted. ness receivable in payment of taxes. Sin e that time the interest has been funded. The interest for the quarter ending April 1st, 1869, was paid yester day in money, and with proper economy in the man agement of the city affairs there is no reason why it should not be paid regularly hereafter.

CLUBS AND STARS .- The following are the cases disposed of yesterday before the Mayor: James Hogan, while, drunk and lying down in the street. Fined $3.

Augustus I cas and Josephine Givens, colored, fighting in the street. Fined $5 cach. E. Henry, white, for driving a loaded wagor through King-street and refusing to turn off when teld to do so. Fined $2. B.Wm. H. Kennedy, drunk and disorderly in the street. Fined $5.

THE THEATRE-JOHN TEMPLETON'S OPERETTA TROUPE.—An immense house greeted the appearance of the long looked-for female operetta troupe last night. The piece of the evening, "stars of the Night," afforded many opportunities for a display of the peculiar charms of the company, and the performers evinced the greatest skill and tactin making the best of all the advantages thus afforded. The programme will be varied every night, but there will be no falling off in the attractions offered. We are requested to state that a new leader of the orchestra is expected immedit'ely.

LARGE SALES OF REAL ESTATE .- A. C. McGilliyray, real estate agent, No. 29 Broad-street, sold yesterday for Sheriff Mackey, under decrees in equity, the following property: A farm of three hundred and thirty acres, six miles from Mount Pleasant Village, which is opposite the city, on the sea shore, for $2850. A plantation of twenty-six hundred and thirty-six agree, in St. Thomas' Parish, with new dwelling, &c., for $11,600. Venning's wharf, on east side of the city, foot of Laurens street, for $15,000. The schooner Lark for $625. Mules for $155 to $180 each. Terms for the real estate one-third cash; balance in one and two years. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Exercises of the Annual Examination Number of Pupils-List of those Distinguished in kach Class.

The public school system of Charleston is probably as successful as that of any city of the United States, certainly of the South. Contending against great obstacles in its first inception, and the most unparalleled misfortunes in the few short years of is existence, it now stands a monument to the wisdom of its founders, and a mighty benefit to the people of the city. The secret of this has been a strict regard to the character as well as the efficiency of the teachers, and a rigid enforcement of the discipline of the schools. The following table shows the total number of scholars and the number in each school and department:

THE NORMAL SCHOOL. Very soon after the door of this school was opened, visitors, principally ladies, began to pour in, and in a short time they, with the scholars, formed as dense a throng as the building could hold. The exercises were opened by the reading of the Bible by the Hon. C. G. Memminger, which was followed by the united school repeating the Lord's Prayer, in musical, accurate and reverential manner. A hymn was then sung, after which the geographical exer cises were pone through, and then a chant, succeed ed by arithmetical exercises, in which the pupils displayed singular proficiency. The scholars were dismissed to their class-rooms, and in reaching then they preserved an order which spoke highly for their discipline. A moment was spent in viewing the artistic decorations in the main room. Festoon of evergreens hung around the pillars and walls, where there were wreaths in which were ap propriate mottees. Over the rostrum, retired some whar, beneath the canopy of flowing garlands, was the talismanic word, "Excelsior." Spanning the entrance was the large motto, also of cecar letters 'By perseverance we overcome difficulties." In similar characters on the north wall was "Labor con quers all things," and on the south wall, "Knowledge s p ower." The minor mottoes wire: "Haster slowly;" "Strive to please and do it right;" "Know th yself, learn to wait;" 'Time is money;" "I will try, I shall wait;" "Well began, better done," &c. All of the other departments and rooms were also decked with flowers, some having moss baskets sus pended from the caiting.

The principal of this school is Miss Anna R. Simonton, who, with her competent corps of assistants, may well feel ; roud of the pupils, who showed a great proficiency in their ready responses. Divisi on A delivered a French recitation in a creditable manner, and division B, Longiellow's touching poem of "The Sini ing Ship." The songs, "Softly and sweetly music shall flow" and "Hearts and Homes" were happily rendered, while one of the teachers presided at the piano, on either side of which was a fine voiced scho ar to lead the masses. Drawings illustrating mechanics, by Misses Adolphine E. Pointel and Laura W. G. Kelly, were almost faultless, and showed a knowledge of physics, not generally possessed by school girls or even their seniors. The examination in the various class-rooms being satisfactorily completed, there was a general assembling in the main room where the Hop. C. G. Memminger, on behalf of the Board of Commissioners, read the list of prizes Mr Memminger took occasion to make a few re marks to the scholars, urging them to diligent and persistent efforts to acquire the great b on, education. He related the well known anecdote of Bruce and the spider, and adapted its moral to the indus try which should characterize the pursuit of any aim in life. He spoke of the gratitude the schol re should feel for the educational advantages afforded the m, and paid a compliment to the teachers under whose auspices so much progress had been made-s progress that had not been surpassed in the school in the same length of time.

TESTIMONIAL TO THE PRINCIPAL. Through Mr. E. Montague Grimke, the Secretary of the Board, the scholars presented the Principal Miss Simonton, with a silver goblet and salver, with her name inscribed on the latter. Mr. Grimke in felicitous terms made the presentation, and referred to the recipient's services in sentiments of the highest encomium. Miss Simonion was so over come by surprise that she requested the Hon. Mr. Memminger to respond for he', which he did in his terse and peculiarly graceful words, and said that pupils in the principal would andure even longer than the metal of which the presents were made This event closed the exercises, with a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Pinckney, at the Normal School, and i may be said that the examination of no previous year gave greater satisfaction to the commis

ST PHILIP-STREET SCHOOL Also had a crowd of visitors, and was adorned, as was the Normal school. The exhibition of yesterday proved incontestibly that Mr. Archer, the prin cipal, bad not spent the time in fruitless endeavor to inculcate his excellent discipline and thorough comprehension of the science of education; in testimony of which the pupils gave the most ample proc in their ready responses to questions propounded some really difficult, and in their strict attention to his instructions. There were maps drawn on blackboards representing South America, Africa, the State and harbor, by G. Herber Jones, of the first class, and North America and the hemispheres by Louis Bird, of the second class, South America by John Werner, and Africa by George Schiffley, of the third class.

There were elecutionary efforts by R. H. Jones, Montague Jacobs, Jas. Quackenbush, Wm. Wragg

Johnson, C. F. Bahntge, Manigault Heyward, Jas Cullen, and Arthur H. Steadman. The prize for the best effort was awarded by the commissioner to Master W. Manigault Heyward.

In the Intermediate Department, under Miss C. C. Harbers, there were similar rhetorical displays by Walter Spencer, Thos. Carew, Ellicott Walter, Leon F. St. Amand and Benjamin Cuttino. Among the visitors present we noticed Dr. Thorn and daughter, of Brooklyn, Rev. C. C. Pinckney Rev. J. T. Wightman, Rev. Mr. Adams and Rev. Mr. The Primary Department of this school was most interesting feature; there were upwards of six hundred wee things congregated there, orderly cleanly, and in their studies as ready as could be expected. Their melodies with calisthenic accompaniment were in perfect unison. The motto of thi school which adorns the wall of Mr. Archer's room was "No excellence without labor," done in arbo

THE MORRIS-STREET (COLORED) SCHOOL. The experiment of sustaining a colored school on the Normal pr nosple has proven a success; and has, hough it has been in operation only about eighteen nonths, shown marked signs of enduring progress It was opened on the 23d of September, 1867, with but 84 pupils, and has rapidly increased in numbers, until yesterday it registered 914 pupils. Its department principals and seventeen class teachers. The male department has 182 pupils, the female 255. and the primary 477. Spelling, reading, writing and arithmetic are taught in all classes. History in two and grammar in one. The pressure in the primary department has been so great, as to necessitate fou or five promotions to the grammar department, in eighteen months. The educational grade of the school is somewhat low, but the interest of the pupils is very encouraging. The discipline is not excelled by any school in th city, and is easily enforced. The teachers show great pat ience, and are earnest and careful in their efforts to educate and ameliorate the morals of their charges. The solid and rapid progress of the first and second classes in the male department was es pecially patent since the last examination. This chool is more than twice the size of any colored school in the city. It was tastefully decorated, and was attended by the parents of the scholars. Dr. J. State Board of Education, was one of the visitors to this school, and delivered a short address in happy and very appropriate language, much to the gratification of the principal, teachers and scholars.

MUCH-NEEDED PLANE ROAD COMPLETED. The Baltimore Steamship line, the Wando Fertilizer anufactory, and the machine shops of Messrs. John F. Taylor & Co. have made the bend formed by Hasel, Concord and Pinckney-streets, a great tholoughfare. Being a great thoroughfare it has also become a great quagmire, almost impassable to mail or beast. This was not to be borne by the enterprising gentlemen who ca ried on such an extensive business in that neighborhood, and they determined that they would have those streets planked. The proper influence was brought to bear on the municipal authorities, and the consequence is that a sub stantial plank road has been laid from the corner of East Bay and Hasel streets, through Hasel, Concord and Pinckney streets to the corner of Rast Bay and Pinckney-streets. This greatly facilitates business, and that vicinity is now no longer a terror to th edestrians and beasts of burden.

FOR CHERAW AND THE PERDEL. The steamer General Manigault is receiving freight as above at South Commercial wharf, and will sail to-morrow morning. Apply to Shackelford & Kelly.

GARDEN TRUCK .- The very general interest being paid by our people to trucking, is already directing the attention of business men to our section. There is no business which requires more experience and honest attention than in the sale of ruits and vegetables—no produce so destructive and will so rapidly depreciate by delays, or which subjects the producer to so many frauds. We publish elsewhere the card of Messrs. Heard, Young & Co., of New York, who have both in New York and Norfolk had long experience in this business, and come to us highly recommended. Feeling that much of the success of our truck farmers depends upon the faithful and intelligent attention to business upon the part f hose to whom they consign their produce, we have no hesitation in recommending this firm to their considers ion
